POLIO FUND IN CRITICAL NEED

Richmond, Va., Jan. 24.- "Increased allocations of March of Dimes funds for research and education during 1951 must be made available in order to accelerate progress made in recent virus studies and to train more professional people to care for the increased number of polio patients annually," Dr. Harry E. Van Riper, Medical Director for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, stated at a meeting in Bristol, Virginia, before a large group of campaign workers from western Virginia and eastern Tennessee.

"Very satisfactory progress has been made in testing new drugs, in developing tissue culture of the virus, and in testing vaccines. More funds will be necessary than ever before to take care of these studies and bring them to successful conclusion." He further stated that 78.9 per cent of all March of Dimes money in 1949 was spent on patient care and the amount will be higher in 1950.

HOMEMAKERS' ITEMS

Don't ask the motor of an electric mixer to pull too big a load. When the beaters slow down, you have the first signal of an overloaded motor. Then, if you can't hold the palm of your hand on the mixer head — which contains the motor — you can be sure it it overheated.

Low Cost Essential For Farm Building

Concrete Blocks Filling Farm Construction Needs

Concrete blocks are being used more and more in the construction of farm buildings, according to American Builder magazine.

They have been found very serviceable for dairy barn construction, low in first cost and in upkeep.

Attributes that contribute to concrete's value as a building material on the farm are its durability, cleanliness, and weather and insect resistant qualities. Concrete foundations, masonry unit walls, concrete floors, and precast floor joists can be utilized to construct enduring farm structures and to repair old ones.

Dairy barn of concrete blocks and with a roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles provides an efficient structure low in cost and in upkeep.

If a dairy barn is well-constructed and insulated, body heat of the cows would keep interior temperatures at 45 to 50 degrees in almost any kind of weather.

Lightweight aggregates in monolithic concrete or in masonry units, vermiculite floors and underlayers, hollow core walls, and masonry units with granular loose-filled cores all have qualities that can contribute to the efficiency of rural buildings.

Less Than Half of U.S. Farm Homes Have Baths

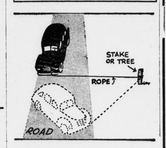
Less than one-half of the nation's more than 4,000,000 farm homes have baths and only half of the rooms are heated, a study of rural housing accommodations revealed.

Excessive standardization to relieve early postwar housing shortages resulted in the building of mediocre farm homes of rectangular, box-like design with too small rooms, too little privacy and absence of adequate plumbing and heating facilities.

However, under impetus of a U.S. department of agriculture program, farm house plans have recently been developed that are expected to fulfill the fundamental requirements. The new plans call for space, equipment and storage facilities in proportion to the number of persons in the family.

Coupled with the benefits of a 10-year electrification program that has brought electricity to 75 per cent of the farm homes, this new home designing will open an untapped market for manufacturers of automatic equipment and home appliances.

Pull Out the Car



Although most farmers these days live on a hard surfaced road, there may be an occasion when it would be necessary to pull a car or tractor out of a ditch. The above illustration shows how to get out of that ditch with the least amount of effort. A tow rope hitched to the front end of the car and tied to a stake or tree at right angle at the side of the road, will give you the leverage to get out of almost any place without help.

Crested-Wheatgrass Seed Production Reported Up

The 1950 production of crested-wheatgrass seed is estimated at 5,330,000 pounds of clean seed. This is 5 per cent larger than the 1949 production of 5,090,000 pounds. Larger crops than last year reported for North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana, more than offset the smaller crops indicated for Nebraska, Colorado and Washington. The Colorado crop was near failure in 1950.

IN MEMORY:
Of Elam O. Jarrell.

It was on a Sunday morning,
January 29, 1950;
I will never forget the day when an angel came and whispered I come to take you away.

As I loved you so I miss you,
In my heart you are always near.
Loved, remembered, longed for,
Always to me you were so dear.

God knew that you were suffering
And the hills were hard to climb.
So He closed your weary eyelids
And whispered peace be thine.

It is so lonely here without you,
And so sad along life's way;
It does not seem the same to me,
Since you were called away.

I know you will be there to meet me
With the smile you always wore;
At the beautiful gates of heaven,
Where we will never part no more.

—Sadly missed by Wife and Children, Mrs. E. O. Jarrells.

CARD OF THANKS: I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for the many kindnesses shown me during my illness. Also for the gifts, flowers and cards.

High School Chatter

Hi boys and gals. Well, no news is good news so that's the way it is at A. H. S.

By the way, Betty W., who did you get a letter from? Was it Ned Eades?

Have you seen some of our glamorous teachers modeling? Well, you'll see them Thursday and Friday if you see, "Going Places."

We had a wonderful chapel program Wednesday. "No Room for Rodney" was the title and it was presented by Mrs. Cheatham's 10th grade English class. Kenneth is quite a Romeo.

Inez, please tell us something. Who was the good looking guy Saturday night? Could it have been Arthur L. Lane, Jr.?

Too bad boys and girls you lost the games Tuesday night, but better luck Thursday night against Pamplin.

If you see these Seniors sparking beautiful sweaters tomorrow, you will know it was a gift from the Monogram Club.

Well, we'll see you next week, with lots more news and remember: study hard. We have a war to fight with exams.

Dr. Torrence

Dr. George Abbitt Torrence died suddenly January 12, in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Dr. Torrence was the dean of the Bath County, Ark., Medical Staff, having practiced there for more than twenty-five years. He was a graduate of the Medical College of Virginia, and started his medical practice in Wise County in 1914. He came to Hot Springs in 1924 and practiced his profession there until last fall when he became physically unable to take care of the strenuous duties which his years of practice had imposed upon him. He was spending the winter in Florida with Mrs. Torrence when he was suddenly stricken.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Edna Cahoon Torrence: two daughters, Mrs. Eugene Barclay, o Brownsall, Pa., and Mrs. Geo. Nichols, of Alexandria, Va.; stepsons Whitney and Edward C. Booth; four sisters, Mrs. Charles Agea, of Farmville; Mrs. F. A. O'Brien, of Appomattox; Mrs. W. D. Woodson, of Lynchburg, and Mrs. R. W. Morris, of Pomatox; five brothers, A. B. Torrence, of Elkton; D. E. Torrence, of Appomattox; J. L. Torrence, of Appomatox; I. G. Torrence, of Lynchburg, and J. H. Torrence, of Appomatox; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the home he loved so well, Sleepy Hollow, at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, with interment in the Warm Springs Cemetery.

Concord R 2

Concord, R. F. D. 2, January 23.- Friends of Mrs. O. R. Turnes will be delighted to hear she was leaving the Virginia Baptist Hospital Tuesday.
